International Dana, September 13, 2026, Visakha's Birthday and More

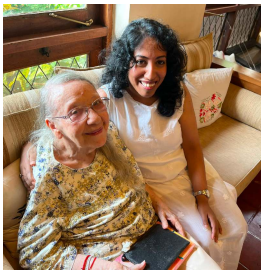

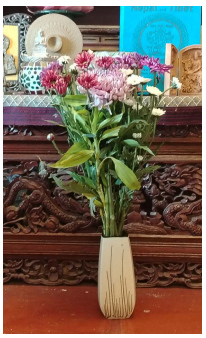

Vietnam, two monks; Myanmar, one monk and one nun; Sri Lanka, one monk and one nun; China, one monk. Seventeen laypersons, many attending for the first time. Chanting in Pali, Vietnamese, and Chinese. Delicious food, delightful conversation, joyous giving, and inspiring Dhamma. Here is Ven. Silacara's summary of his Dhamma talk: "Practicing moral discipline simply means taking responsibility to ensure that no one is harmed because of you. Before reaching for high spiritual goals like Nibbana, we must first learn to fulfill our everyday responsibilities. Whether one is a doctor, a teacher, a student, a leader, a monastic, or a citizen, fulfilling one's own responsibility is the very foundation of being a good person."

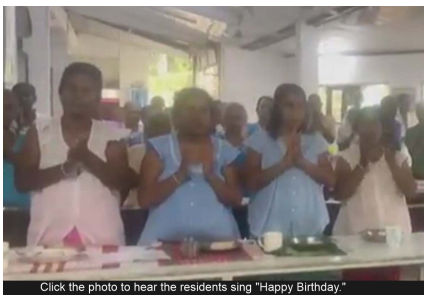

Generosity is always the best way to celebrate a birthday. These recent donations have brought great joy. We honor the donors who have assisted in providing a fishing net for a Rohingya in Panadura and mosquito nets to 120 Rohingya families in the camps in Bangladesh.

High tea to the residents of the Kandy Cancer Home on the fifteenth of every month,. This month, in addition to reading the names of deceased friends, those in ill health, and those who made donations, the residents sang a song. Please join next month with a dedication of your own.

We remembered those who perished in the catastrophic flood in Nepal, and we express our deepest appreication to all who made generous donations. We can be sure that our donations made possible heartening escapes like these. Let us hope that continued rescue operations will result in more happy endings.
